2024

We are committed to reducing our impact on the environment, as demonstrated by our target to reduce carbon emissions associated with the manufacturing of our products by 70% by 2030.

Key to achieving this target will be continuing to increase our use of recycled materials. By doing so, we can further reduce emissions associated with the extraction and processing of virgin material.

Products in our OceanGreen Ryno range include 50% recycled content derived from fishing nets and equipment.

When the nets are no longer required, they are collected and turned into recycled polymer granules. This recycling process prevents the nets reaching our oceans and harming sealife, and reduces the carbon footprint of OceanGreen products.

KEEPING OUR OCEANS CLEAN	REDUCING CARBON EMISSIONS
Abandoned or lost fishing equipment account for around 10% of the plastics that end up in our oceans.<sup>1</sup> “Ghost nets” like these can be harmful to sealife, with fish, birds, crabs and other species becoming tangled in them and attracting larger animals like dolphins and whales which can also become trapped. They can also cause damage to sea beds and coral reefs by becoming snagged and shading them from sunlight. By collecting these nets before they reach our oceans, and use them to manufacture our products, we’re minimising the harm abandoned nets can cause to our oceans.	 23% Reduction in energy required to manufacture  By reducing the amount of virgin material used to produce our furniture, we reduce the energy consumption by 23%  16% Reduction in carbon footprint  We’re assessing all of our products for carbon reduction opportunities. The OceanGreen material offers a 16% reduction in carbon emissions.
